RESPECT LIFE

Our faith and Catholic teaching offer a moral framework for choices about the use of the death penalty. A principled Catholic response to crime and punishment is rooted in our convictions about good and evil, sin and redemption, justice and mercy. It is also shaped by our commitment to the life and dignity of every human person, and the common good. The opening chapters of the Book of Genesis teach that every life is a precious gift from God (see Genesis 2:7, 21-23). This gift must be respected and protected. - USCCB, A Culture of Life and the Penalty of Death. "We pray that the Holy Spirit move our hearts to recognize the intrinsic dignity of every person we encounter."
